Welcome to James Cook University

Education is vital to our shared future. It is only through education that we deepen our understanding of the world, gathering the skills needed to use knowledge effectively and grow as people able to contribute to society and shape a brighter future. Education also provides a route to access more challenging and rewarding careers. Yet education is also so much more: It can let us dream, explore exciting new concepts, have fun, and make lifelong friends.

As you start your international education journey, our commitment to you is that JCU is about all these things. We are also about great student experiences and exceptional academic and career outcomes. All Australian universities will make the same promises, but with JCU there is one big difference. While you study you can experience authentic learning in our own backyard across the Great Barrier Reef, Daintree Rainforest, and the great Australian outback. You can also work with regional and remote communities, explore ecosystems as living laboratories, or work in areas where climate change and the awesome power of nature are both fearsome and challenging. That's why JCU is Uni, but not as you know it.

For over 50 years, JCU has helped create that brighter future through students and graduates who make a difference. We are committed to bringing together our natural world, the built environment, people and societies, through experiential learning. We do so with a view to living the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals and were ranked #9 in the world¹ for our commitment to health and wellbeing. We have a strong international reputation, recognised among the world's top 300 universities², top 25 universities for ecology³, the top 100 for earth and marine science and environmental science⁴, and being independently rated five stars for starting salary, learner engagement, full-time employment, and social equity⁵. These achievements are hard earned and a tribute to the commitment of academics and professional staff in supporting students on their journey to becoming well-rounded graduates.

As you explore this guide, consider the opportunities available to you and how they might enable your journey of discovery. We are committed to you having a student experience that is life changing, whether it is in one of the most fascinating places in the world or online in the comfort of your own home. One in which you develop the skills, build your knowledge, and gain the confidence to launch your career.

The COVID-19 global pandemic and international travel restrictions have resulted in changes to teaching and learning at JCU, in order to keep everyone safe and adhere to Australian Government guidelines. We have made adjustments to our course offerings to enable students in some courses to study online, and will continue to work closely with our students to ensure they gain the best possible outcome from their time studying with us, and develop the skills, knowledge and confidence to launch their careers.

During times of uncertainty, education increases in its importance to you and your community and an educational experience that crosses international borders and engages international perspectives is becoming more important than ever. Thank you for taking the time to explore JCU. We look forward to creating a brighter future with you that makes a difference.

Coming Together and Respecting Difference

Acrylic on linen by Cassandra Savage (JCU Alumni)

Language group: Waanyi and Walangama clan part of Gkuthaarn/Kukatj nations

JCU acquired this artwork as part of our commitment to implement the Reconciliation Action Plan. The artwork represents JCU's story in an Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander way:

- Circles in the middle depicts JCU as a meeting place
- Outer circles are JCU's linkages to communities through their students who return home to share their new knowledge and understandings
- Different patterns within the hands and arms are the differences between and within Aboriginal, Torres Strait Islander, and multicultural Australia. There are also similarities in the hands and arms used to illustrate us standing together for equity and equality
- The ripple effect in the arms and hands represents our reconciliation journey; starting small, growing bigger and reaching out to touch more and more lives. The effect gathers momentum to develop support and understandings. The circles represent the importance of yarning circles, meeting circles, and communities, in order that we can connect with each other.

“As an international student from the US, I’m used to large lecture sizes which limits the amount of time you get interacting with your professor. The smaller lecture sizes JCU offers enable you to learn from leading scientists on a first-name basis, which really adds to the overall learning experience.”

“The highlight of my study experience has been my 2nd year rural placement in Emerald. We (the students) were welcomed like family. The staff invited us to trivia nights, social gatherings, and made us feel at home. The patients were wonderful, and happy to let us practice newly learned clinical skills. Weekends were spent exploring the countryside and fossicking (prospecting) for sapphires at Pats Gems. It was a truly great introduction to rural medicine and the rural lifestyle.”

This building received a 2020 Master Builder Queensland award for its design, which connects to the University's history, teaching and learning.

The JCU Central Plaza is made up of a series of spaces for small and large gatherings, located right at the heart of the university's campus. It adds to the quality of life for all students on campus as it provides a place for them to pause and relax, bounce ideas from one to another, as well as being an area to host large gatherings for the university and wider community.

This is brought together by the innovative design of the roof, framed as a series of curvilinear trusses spanning approximately 22 meters between the main support columns and with no face of the roof being a flat surface, whilst also incorporating the impressive 405m2 artwork 'After the Flood' by Indigenous artist Megan Cope.
