Learning, Teaching and Assessment Procedure 1.2.3

1.2.3 Students receive explicit learning and teaching information which uses commonly accepted terminology and language appropriate to the discipline. The information includes recommendations about how students can meet academic expectations and take responsibility for their own progress including:

- a. Before each study period accessing course and subject learning outcomes, in accordance with the Course and Subject Handbook.
- b. During each study period clear instructions to access learning activities and assessment items, as outlined in the Subject Outline Procedure.
