Why choose pharmacy?

OPEN THE DOOR TO A RANGE OF CAREER OPTIONS

Pharmacy can lead to a range of careers, including working in retail community pharmacy stores, hospitals, Defence Force, research and drug development, aged care facilities, GP and health clinics, home visits, health service management and much more. As well as dispensing medications, retail pharmacists often provide a range of services, such as health and medication advice, vaccinations, health check-ups and reviews of medications.

"Since I've done pharmacy, no two days have been the same. There is just so much diversity to a career in pharmacy and it's so rewarding as you really get to see the difference you can make to someone's health."

– Kate Gill, JCU Bachelor of Pharmacy Graduate

CHANGE PEOPLE'S LIVES

Pharmacists are on the front line of health care, making a difference to people's health and improving community health outcomes. Pharmacists are also important members of the healthcare team, working with doctors, nurses and other allied health professionals, assisting in improving the health and wellbeing of people.

"My job still excites me. I get to make a difference every day. My Bachelor of Pharmacy is not just a degree to me, it's the opportunity to really apply my skills. The opportunities I've had have been to create change and really improve patient care."

– Dr Stevie Perks, JCU Bachelor of Pharmacy Graduate

BE IN DEMAND

Looking for job security? In 2020 pharmacy was ranked as the top study area across Australia for graduate full-time employment, with 96.4% of pharmacy graduates finding full-time employment soon after graduating*. JCU Pharmacy graduates are highly sought after by employers, with JCU's degree being ranked as #1 in Queensland for pharmacy full-time graduate employment[^].

"Pharmacy is very much a portable career that you can take to any community and find work. There is always a lot of opportunities. There's usually a pharmacist in every community."

– Eddie Gacitua, JCU Bachelor of Pharmacy Graduate

JOB FLEXIBILITY

A career in pharmacy offers a range of career pathways, some of which may offer flexibility in working arrangements, including part-time/full-time, casual, day or night shifts to help you balance your work, life and family commitments.

"Pharmacy has been the perfect career for me having children and being able to come and go from the workforce between having children. It's a career that is always in demand. Every time I've been ready to come back to work there has been a job here for me."

– Sarah Hughes, JCU Bachelor of Pharmacy Graduate

“JCU is leagues above in terms of placement hours; we lot gets of experience. On the rural placement I have been able to see and visit the most amazing places. You work during the day but you get to enjoy different locations after hours and on weekends. It has been really fantastic!”

Emma Dall'Alba

BACHELOR OF PHARMACY

“JCU Pharmacy has produced today’s brightest pharmacy minds and most influential leaders, but you won’t just find our graduates leading national debate, policy development or running very senior health service portfolios. They are also making a big difference for patients. This is partly because we attract passionate and clever students and partly because we have great educators who are able to teach in small groups and have the experience to apply theory to authentic pharmacy problems. That’s what makes it so popular with our students and one of the best pharmacy programs in the country. Combined with our applied research focus, our graduates are well rounded and highly sought after. Come to JCU Pharmacy and you will get a great pharmacy education and be ready to take your place in the pharmacy profession.”

Associate Professor John Smithson

ACADEMIC HEAD OF PHARMACY

Career Opportunities

There is a strong demand for pharmacists in northern and rural/remote Australia. Highly skilled and trained in all aspects of contemporary and future pharmacy practice, JCU Bachelor of Pharmacy (Honours) graduates are sought after by employers.

You will have a range of exciting career opportunities including hospital and community pharmacy, pharmacy practice management, government health services and regulatory bodies, defence force and the pharmaceutical industries.

Be equipped with the skills to work in any setting, ranging from metropolitan cities to the outback and the remotest of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities.

With further study, you could pursue a career in clinical research and university teaching or even work overseas.
